TREMENDOUS LOSS WROUGHT BY PESTIFEROUS LITTLE LOUSE

Many Farmers Do Not Realize That Lice Cause Much Damage to Swine—Parasites Worry Animals and Prevent Feeding and in Many Cases Cause Sores Retarding Natural Growth.

A Simple, but Satisfactory, Hoghouse.

By R. G. WETHERSTONE
Not long ago in looking over a bunch of hogs in western Illinois we observed that most of the animals were afflicted with little sores, red spots, on the thin places in their skins.

These eruptions were particularly noticeable back of the ear and on the tanks. The farmer complained that his hogs were not eating well and he could not understand what caused the sores to break out.

This bunch of hogs of all ages, from three-months-old pigs to three-year-old sows, ran on a pasture during the day but at night slept in houses which were used for the winter quarters.

I suggested that the trouble might be caused by lice, and the farmer caught two or three pigs and found them almost alive with parasites. He was astonished and admitted that he had never examined one of his animals before.

Many farmers do not realize that lice are a source of tremendous loss to the raising of hogs. They worry the animals and prevent their feeding well, and in many cases produce sores or eruptions which naturally retard growth.

It is not difficult to rid the pig of lice by dipping or spraying, but these remedies are of no use unless the pens and sleeping quarters are rid of the lice as well.

The best dip to use is some of the tar solutions, as they are harmless. We do not believe in kerosene emulsion because unless great care is taken to keep the solution very weak the animals will blister if allowed to run in the hot sun after being sprayed.

When a bunch of hogs is badly infested the animals should be dipped, although spraying may be used, provided the hogs are tied and thrown so that the spray may cover every portion of the body. It is no use to try to dip them out of business.

For Mixing Concrete.

For mixing concrete there has been invented a spade with long oval holes in the blade, through which the finer cement will flow and give the surface a finer finish.

SPECIAL DEVICE FOR DEPTH SAWS

Gage Shown in Illustration Will be Found Useful When Cutting to Any Uniform Depth.

It is frequently necessary to make a saw cut of uniform depth, and unless a special device is provided for the purpose the task is an extremely difficult one, says the Scientific American. The accompanying illustration shows a small gage which may be applied to any saw and may be adjusted thereto to prevent the saw from cutting deeper than desired. Two thin strips of wood of about the length of the saw blade are fastened to a pair of arms secured to a block at the upper end. A thumb screw below this block may be tightened to clamp the two strips against the blade of the saw. These strips may be secured at any desired point on the blade, and thus provide an easily adjustable depth gauge.

Horse Susceptible to Cold.
Horses are exceedingly susceptible to cold on the chest, and a horse will oftentimes contract pneumonia or other ills if left standing unprotected, which he would escape if provided with a thick apron of carpet or oil-cloth suspended from the hames and reaching to the lowest portion of the chest. It is a little thing and inexpensive, but it is worth attending to.

Italian Cotton Imports.
Italy now imports more than $50,000,000 worth of cotton each year. Hence the government is carefully fostering all attempts to produce a native crop.

PROTEST MADE AGAINST HUNTER

No Reason Why Farmer Should be Expected to Tolerate Band of Trespassers Every Fall.

By BESSIE L. PUTNAM
A few years ago, when the pioneers along the line commenced to object to the depredations of the hunter, they were charged by hunter and surrounding farmers alike as stingy and unaccommodating. But more and more is there a growing sentiment against having one's farm used as a hunting ground.

At this season it is very easy to start a fire, very difficult to check one that has once commenced. Even though the majority of hunters are careful never to toss aside a lighted cigar, never to strike matches in improper places, one never knows when the careless one may come along and do untold mischief.

There is the annoyance to stock. The old saying, "One might as well be killed as scared to death," is applicable with peculiar force. Sheep, worried by hunter and dogs, soon become so wild that not even the owner can approach them readily.

Cattle have been known to stand still when a gun was fired in close proximity. Such treatment is ruinous to the dairyman, to say nothing of the frequent accidents, when a valuable animal is sacrificed, the hunter making off with his game and leaving the owner of the land that much poorer for his generosity.

The game is rapidly being exterminated, and much of it is really the farmer's friend. The quail, the clear noise of which fills all bird lovers with joy, is one of the best insect and weed destroyers.

A flock of quail in the potato patch renders the use of Paris green unnecessary, and the detected out-worm is their favorite dessert.

The farmer "feeds the world," but there is no reason why he should be expected to tolerate a band of trespassers every fall, endangering the life of his possessions. In many communities farmers are banding together against the hunting nuisance.

After the hogs have been dipped or sprayed they should be turned into a clean lot that has never been used for hogs and the old quarters should be abandoned, or if this is not practicable, every particle of bedding and litter in the yards must be raked, swept up and burned, and every foot of ground in the yards and the fences and sleeping quarters, as well, thoroughly sprayed with a strong disinfectant.

Kerosene emulsion, which is cheap, can be used in this way to advantage. The hogs should not be returned to the old quarters for several weeks, and a second spraying or even a third before the hogs are turned in is advisable.

If the hogs are allowed to occupy the same pens and sleeping quarters year after year, which are not frequently cleaned and sprayed, as above suggested, lice will surely get into herd.

As this parasite multiplies with tremendous rapidity it only takes a short time to thoroughly infest hogs so that their thrift will be impeded.

The hog house affects no other animal, but devotes his entire time and attention to the swine. While he is quite tenacious in the efforts to live, still a moderate application of dips and sprays and the burning of old bedding and whitewashing of the interiors of sleeping quarters will quickly put him out of business.

For mixing concrete there has been invented a spade with long oval holes in the blade, through which the finer cement will flow and give the surface a finer finish.

It's tough to have to tell a bright, pretty, attractive, too-mating girl, the futility of whose proposal shows how undying her affection is, that you can only be a brother to her!

A WOMAN SORRY to the conscience finds it so she believes she owes her duty on 37 yards of Irish lace bought from an Italian pedler, who declared he had smuggled it and, therefore, was able to sell it to her at 20 cents a yard. Conscience is a strong thing. The poor woman, if she only knew it, owes herself money.

A NEW cancer cure is announced in Paris. Experiments made at the Pasteur Institute show that mice infected with cancerous germs were cured after being treated with eight or ten injections of a combination of selenium and cocaine. After three or four injections the tumor liquefies and disappears. So far no relapses have occurred in the cases treated in the last several months. Great importance is attached to the discovery. Selenium is one of the new radium metals discovered by Mme. Curie.

MRS. CARNegie was a little diffident in appearing before the committee that is investigating the Steel Trust. He was too shy to accept an invitation and it took a subpoena to get him there, but once before the committee he had a delightful time telling how he started on the road to wealth, expressing his opinion of our banking system, discussing transportation and trusts, and paying a high compliment of "Charlie" Schwab as a mechanical genius. The committee may not know any more about the influence of trusts on the course of trade than it did before, but it has had a pleasant time listening to the always interesting and frequently illuminating conversation of the Laird of Skibo.

Profuse Perspiration.

Profuse perspiration, or hyperdrosis, often causes great annoyance, and when offensive even sullying. Offensiveness is most likely to occur when the regions affected are those that come into close and continual contact with the clothing, as, for example, the feet and the armpits; and moreover, the long continued dampness due to lack of evaporation may cause a troublesome exema.

Many people, especially those in whom the excessive sweating is caused by nervous conditions, are annoyed, even in cold weather and although they discard gloves, by profuse and continual perspiring of the hands.

In dealing with this ailment, it is necessary to seek the underlying cause, and it possible to remove it. Sometimes the perspiring is only one among many symptoms of a serious physical condition—general paralysis, for example; at other times, what it may be a symptom of remains obscure in spite of much searching. Very often it appears to be simply one symptom of a lack of general tone, in which case it is often accompanied by poor circulation.

Hypodermis is most trying when it occurs in the feet, for since people are obliged to go about, sufficient ventilation and absolute cleanliness are hard to attain. Sometimes the trouble proves to be due to flatfoot, and then shoes that will give proper support to the weakened arch will correct the excessive sweating. In general, sufferers from hypodermis must observe the most fastidious cleanliness. If, however, they should take a foot bath several times a day, and always follow it with a complete change of foot-wear, they should wear white socks or stockings, and as far as possible, canvas shoes.

Much can be done by local treatment, either with powders, which are prescribed for their drying and absorbing effect, or with astringent and antiseptic lotions. It is well to bathe the feet at night with water containing an astringent lotion, and to use a powder in the morning on putting on the shoes and stockings. If any one objects to the use of powder, he may obtain the same result by wearing white stockings that have been soaked in a saturated solution of boric acid.

AVOID DANGER FROM FROST

Formation of Ice Around Base of Trees
Keeps Ground in Frozen Condition, Retarding Growth.

Last year there was a scarcity of fruit in the middle states because the prematurely warm weather thawed the ground and warmed the trees, causing them to blossom. This was followed by frosty weather that froze the blossoms which contained the germs necessary to produce fruit.

This is a frequent occurrence and farmers have used fires and oil stoves under the branches of the trees in their orchards to keep the blossoms from being frost-bitten.

There is danger of frost in our region until April 15 or later, and by delaying the budding these trees will be avoided, or there is ample time in the fall of the year for the ripening of the fruit, writes Chas. Dietz in the Chicago News.

In order to do this all that would be necessary is to scrape a small ridge of dirt about six inches high, forming a circle around the base of the tree about five feet from it. After the ground has thoroughly frozen in the latter part of January fill this bowl or space with water, which would be directly over the root of the tree. The cold weather would cause the water to become ice. Then place a layer of straw or hay over this ice. The device would keep the sun from thawing the ice, as the snow and ice ridges on the shady or north side of our fences now show. As ice is a nonconductor of heat, this would keep the dirt around the roots and base of the tree in a frozen condition, retarding the circulation or flowing of the sap until it was thawed and warmed up. The straw or hay could be removed about April 15 with safety.

OLD-FASHIONED RABBIT TRAP

Can Be Made by Any Boy Handy With Tools Inside Half an Hour and It Never Fails to Work.

Make a box with a sliding door to work up and down easily. Run a stringer over the center peg and fasten the trigger which has a little notch in it to hook behind the top board and to hold up the trap-door. When the rabbit gnaws at the bait he pushes the trigger back, which slides through the hole and lets the slide-door fall. This can be made out of any strong box by a boy who is handy with tools in half an hour and it never fails to work.

A Handy Diagram.

Where different varieties of apples are stored together in the same pit, or, if several sorts of vegetables are buried together, keep a diagram of the pit, something like this:

Ben Jonathan. Willow Pippin. Davis. Twig.

By this plan when fruit is wanted in the winter, one may now exactly what part of the pit to open to secure the varieties desired.

HORTICULTURAL NOTES

It does not pay to crowd trees in planting.

Encourage the boys to kill every rabbit they can this winter.

The damage done by rabbits does not stop with the trees they girdle.

The peach and plum are short-lived trees. The pear and apple are long-lived.

Grapes are still trodden under the bare feet in many of the vineyards of Italy and Spain.

Young orchards are injured by birds, rabbits and mice and should be protected against these pests.

Preparations should now be made to protect the younger trees in the orchard from rabbits and sunscald.

Wood ashes are alkaline and not acid in any degree and are very good for strawberry and other fruit plants.

One secret of success in getting grafts is to have the scions entirely dormant when they are placed in the limbs.

A good deal depends upon what a certain market prefers, in the matter of fruit packages, as well as in fruit varieties.

Experiments have shown that peach trees should not wait until the trees leaf out before they spray with Bordeaux mixture.

The rabbit is a carrier of several parasitic diseases of animals. Like some other things they look more innocent than they are.

Frequently ornamental shrubs that are not pruned each year, as they should be in most cases, grow too tall and become obstructed and lose much of their beauty.

TO KILL ROADSIDE INSECTS

Right Time to Do Work Is Late in Fall When Cold Weather Has Set in and Vegetation Dry.

By GEORGE H. GLITZKED.

A great many people have the mistaken idea that the time to burn the roadside in order to kill the many insects that winter in these places, is in the early spring of the year.

If you will watch closely at such a place where the roadside has been burned in the spring you will see the insects coming out of the ground very thickly on the warm days.

This proves that the insects were not killed. Most of them are in the ground and the heat of the fire passing over them does not harm them and the trash burned from above them makes it all the easier for the insects to come forth.

While no doubt a few of them are killed the majority of them are uninjured.

The right time to burn these roadsides to do effective work is in the late fall of the year, after the cold weather has already set in and all the tender vegetation is dry.

Then, if the roadsides are burned, the insects in such places will be killed by heavy freezing, as they usually do not go very deeply into the ground but seem to depend on the covering of trash to protect them from the cold.

This is a great bit more effective in the killing of the insects than the spring burning.

Not only does the fall burning of the roadsides do good by the killing of the insects that winter there, but it also helps to keep the road in better shape by allowing less snow to collect in the drifts as it usually does in places where there is much grass and weeds.

STICK TO THE FANNING MILL

By Grading Our Own Seed We Can Materially Increase Yield of Our Small Grain Crops.

No farmer can get any one to take the same pains in grading his seed that he would himself. Some farmers claim that it does not pay to clean grain.

It is a fact that it does not pay very large returns to clean and grade grain before selling it, but by grading our own seed we can materially increase the yield of our small grain crops.

The corn crop of this country has been increased millions of bushels by Fanning Mill.

Intelligent seed selection. All other grain crops can be improved by grading the seed, so that only good, plump, healthy grains, free from all foul weed-seeds may be grown.

The fanning-mill, judiciously used, will do much to increase the yield of every small grain-crop and assist in keeping our fields free from noxious weeds.

It will take cockle out of wheat, buckwheat, plantain out of clover, in fact it can be adjusted so as to handle all kinds of grain and weeds.

If you decide that it pays to sow good seed and to keep your fields free from noxious weeds, then do not hesitate to invest a few dollars in a fanning mill.

Good Roads & Farm Notes

File the crosscut saw yourself; you will thus soon save enough to buy a new saw.

Weeds crowd the cultivated plants, depriving them of light and space in both soil and air.

Clover and grass seed will nearly always do best when they can be started to early growth.

The germinating power of the middle kernels of an ear of corn is much stronger than that of the tip and butt kernels.

Experts of the department of agriculture advocate the use of lime in a limited and experimental way in every locality.

No matter whether the corn is bought or saved from your own farm it should be stored in a dry, well-ventilated place.

After growing a crop of corn, the soil is always in excellent form to absorb and retain the autumn rains and winter snows.

Alfalfa does not attain maturity until the third or fourth year; therefore, do not sow it expecting to get the best results in less time.

Corn treated with a dressing of plaster and ashes will soon show by the strong growth and the dark color of the leaf the effect of the dressing.

Keep wide paths shovelled to every outbuilding. Help to open the roads when heavy snow drifts them, whether you are called out by the master or not.

Don't put off till spring any outside work that can be done now. Clean up the garden, haul out manure, and when possible push the plowing before snow flies.

Take the frost out of your grindstone before you grind the ax, but do it gradually, and not by using too hot water. That would injure the quality of the stone.

A Ready Assistant For Off Days.

Perhaps you never have any off days when the dinner getting problem is a Chinese puzzle; when you haven't a thing ready and no materials that sounds good to you.

If you haven't such days you surely are to be congratulated.

But if you have, then a few cans of Campbell's Soup on your pantry shelf will help you a whole lot—will in fact solve the problem.

Campbell's Tomato Soup will taste good and will fill up so little else need be served.

Better let us send you half a dozen cans right now so you will be ready for possible off days.

A Clean Man

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and clean, healthy flesh.

It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs.

Constipation is the most unclean uncleanliness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pill lets cure it. They never gripe. Easy to take as candy.

TO THE MONTHS.

Dance, dance, and whirl the weary year away.
Unto the bourse of every lagone year.
Dance on your measures, be they sad or gay.
No imprint leave upon the face austere.
Of this our kingdom, ring your decking rounds.
Their trace evanishes; and not a ninth.
Of darkling vapor 'neath the azure bounds.
Of empyrean, cloining its blue mirth.
Nor flashing wattle of the wild bird's wing.
Write upon air a more enduring thing.
The Seasons are your garments; then you cast
Over the world you dance upon; their stain.
Tinctures the vision of the precious past.
Garlands the garne of delight and pain.
Though Earth forget them and a bosom bare
Lifts to the lashes of the winter wind.
Your robes of many colors—radiant, rare.
Kindling old haunts of memory—remind.
How Spring and Summer and red gold on ways.
Were prelude to the sere of these dark days.

Dance in my heart, ye Twelve that delicate thing.
Throbs at your lightest footfall, to the last.
And not a day of all the days ye bring
Shall unrecorded stand upon the past.
Too instant are they—each a living stroke.
Of this slight shadow-picture that enspheres.
My life—a vision of a rainbow broke
On stormy time. Oh, children of the years.
Your dance of joy shall light my dim tomorrow
Through the long darkness of your dance of sorrow.

Coal operators are among the heavy losers resulting from the railroad strike. There is an extra demand for coal, but on account of not being able to have cars handled the miners are operated only on about half time. There is a general desire that the railroad company and the men get together, as every avenue of industry is being made to suffer from the handicap.

The severe cold of the past week, or some other cause, has brought about a heavy fire loss all over the state. Louisville having had one of its worst fires in years, and many other towns and cities suffering heavy configurations. Frozen water mains have handicapped the fire-fighters, thus adding to the loss. Greenville luckily had its run of fires in fair weather, and has thus far escaped an outbreak.

Death of Mrs. J. D. Langley.

Mrs. Elizabeth Langley died at her home in Central City last Saturday, following an illness of some months from rheumatism, complicated with heart trouble.

She was the wife of Mr. J. D. Langley, chief of police of Central City, and was well known in this county, where she spent her 62 years. Deceased was a worthy member of the Methodist church, and a funeral service was held at the church at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, interment being made in Fairmount cemetery, in the presence of many relatives and friends from over the county. Beside her husband she is survived by six children.

Household Hints.

Never indulge in family quarrels in the presence of the cook. It detracts her attention from her work.

Always keep in your pantry a pound or two of coffee, selected especially for the use of neighbors.

Try to avoid the useless habit of padding and smirking when talking through the telephone to a friend. Reflect a moment—the friend does not see you.

Beans may be baked by putting them in a pot and placing the pot just inside the furnace door before retiring for the night. If the beans are cooked too much they can be used for fuel.

Many store houses have been more or less flooded during the past ten days, as this has been a hard test on roofs.

Typewriter ribbons, all machines at ROARK'S.

People here have been fortunate in being able to secure coal from cars shipped in from nearby mines. The roads have been so bad that it was almost impossible to make deliveries from the small banks, and many cars a week are being handled by various parties. The price is being held down to the regular rate of 8 cents a bushel.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Circuit court is moving along at a good gait, and several important cases have been handled. The grand jury adjourned yesterday, after ten days' work well done, and have returned many important indictments, with the usual lesser of fenses, also. In the case of the Employers' Indemnity Co. vs. Elk Valley Consolidated Coal Co. pre-emptory instructions were given for the defendant.

The Third National Bank of Lexington was given a judgment of $2,500 against J. M. Thompson.

Mrs. Annie Eades secured a judgment of $3,000, credited by $3,500 against the Security Life Insurance Co. of America. This policy was held by Mr. C. E. Eades, but the company sought to lapse it on claim of non-payment of premium, but the court gave an extended opinion, and by pre-emptory instruction ruled against the company in its contention.

The youngsters have been having some rare sport here for several days, out more than seven hills near town supplying the site for sledding, and scores of boys and girls have been improving the opportunity to the limit. One of the favorite places has been the hill leading to the depot, and a mile a minute has been slow going to the speed reached by some of the flyers. There have been a few upsets, with bumps, scratches and bruises, but no real injuries have been sustained, and there has not been any letancy in the game on account of these slight mishaps.

Land Hunters Pleated.

There has not been known such activity in land as is now on in this county. The purchasers are here in abundance, and some of them have put in much time without being able yet to secure what they want. The value of Muhlenberg land is beginning to be appreciated at somewhat of its worth, and people who own it are averse to letting it loose, as prices here are much lower than in the adjoining counties. Some recent transfers of land near town show an increase of over 100 percent in the last 15 years.

The general rule is to secure double and treble the prices now that ruled that far back. Many people think the limit has been reached, but wiser ones predict that during the next decade land will increase in price fully as much as it has in the past 15 years. There is no doubt that the movement is in its first stages, and the development will astonish most of us. As one looks back now, he wonders why he did not have the foresight to invest in lands years ago, but it is even more certain that in time to come we shall regret our neglect of land even more than we now do. All other values may fluctuate, and money may be entirely lost when invested in the industries, but since the beginning of time the land has become more valuable each year.

The attractiveness of Muhlenberg is drawing hundreds of people from other parts here, and farms at $10 to $15 an acre will soon be a thing of the past.

Farmers are elated over the heavy snows and the continued cold, as old observers declare that they have never known a poor crop year to follow such weather as we have been getting this winter. If everyone will believe this it will help greatly, because this will cause proper effort on the part of the tiller of the soil, and after all that has more than any other one thing to do with the production of crops.

The warm weather of yesterday, and rain promised, cause fears of high waters.

Always keep in your pantry a pound or two of coffee, selected especially for the use of neighbors.

Try to avoid the useless habit of padding and smirking when talking through the telephone to a friend. Reflect a moment—the friend does not see you.

Beans may be baked by putting them in a pot and placing the pot just inside the furnace door before retiring for the night. If the beans are cooked too much they can be used for fuel.

Quaker Oats

In an article published in the Youth's Companion of September 23rd, 1909, Dr. Browne, the great medical authority on foods, says, about brain and muscle building—

"There is one kind of food that seems to me of marked value as a food to the brain and to the whole body throughout childhood and adolescence (youth), and that is oatmeal.

"His experiments prove that good oatmeal such as Quaker Oats not only furnishes the best food for the human being, but eating it strengthens and enlarges the thyroid gland—this gland is intimately connected with the nourishing processes of the body.

In conclusion he says—

"It seems probable therefore that the bulk and brawniness of the Northeners (meaning the Scotch) has been in some measure due to the stimulation of the thyroid gland by oatmeal porridge in childhood."

He says oatmeal is gaining ground with the well-to-do of Great Britain. He speaks of it as the mainstay of the Scottish laborer's diet and says it produces a big-boned, well-developed, mentally energetic race.

The Scotch eat Quaker Oats because it is the best of all oat-meals.

HOW OLD PEOPLE

May Prolong Their Lives

At an advanced age waste is more rapid than repair. The organs act more slowly and less effectively than in youth. The circulation is poor, the blood thin and watery, the appetite poor and digestion weak.

We want to say to every aged person in this vicinity that Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic (without oil) will prolong life. It creates an appetite, aids digestion and makes good blood. In this natural manner Vinol restores waste and replaces weakness with strength, giving new life to the worn system.

If people in this vicinity only realized how Vinol invigorates old people we would not be able to supply the demand.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

CONCRETE SAVES OLD TREE

Elm Is Preserved by Construction of Concrete Wall, So That Entire Trunk Was Free from Dirt.

C. L. Miller, in Suburban Life for August, writes of the preservation of an old elm through the medium of concrete. The street on which this particular elm was growing had been tiled up all of four feet, and in the course of a few years this began to affect the tree, which showed manifest signs of decay. So, in order to save it, the ground was dug away from the tree to its original level, and a concrete wall, together with a rustic railing, was placed around the tree, so that the entire trunk might be free from dirt, as it was originally.

The construction of the reinforced concrete wall is very simple. After the hole was dug in the desired width and squared properly, the posts were set so that they rested on the bottom of the hole and extended about four feet above the ground. These posts were connected each by four cross-pieces, two below the ground and two above, which made a sort of fence around the tree. The false work to hold the cement in place until it was set was so constructed that the part of the posts below the ground, as well as the cross-pieces connecting them, would be half embedded in the concrete. This concrete wall, approximately nine inches in thickness, was reinforced with strong iron wire cut to the required length, and put in place in the manner of open network while the concrete was being poured. Braces extended from the tree to the bottom wherever it was deemed necessary, so that the false work might be strong enough to hold the concrete back or it.

Above the ground, a rustic railing was carried out, constructed so that it might be strong enough to permit of the small boy's climbing over it.

LITTLE SNOWBERRY IS HARDY

Small Shrub Bears Fruit in Clusters and Is Easy of Propagation by Seeds or Cuttings.

The snowberry is a small shrub which bears fruit in clusters and is easy of propagation by suckers, seeds or cuttings.

These shrubs are excellent for covering the ground under trees, or planting in masses or in borders where a low-growing plant is desired.

They are very hardy and thrive well in almost any soil, even in heavy clay or dry gravelly soil. Their habit of suckering enables them to cover the ground rapidly and effectively.

The snowberry is practically effective because it retains its fruit until it is forced off and one species retains its foliage through the winter. For these reasons they are pleasing additions to the winter landscape.

A Good Apple.

Stayman is surpasses no other. By some authorities it is called the most successful apple grown. It is of medium size, a beautiful dark, rich red, good eating as well as good keeping fruit. It is far superior to and the tree much stronger than the original vinesap; long lived, early bearer, good yielder, a later winter variety.

Protect Fruit Bushes.

Currant and other bushes that are liable to be broken down by heavy snows, may often be protected from such damage by simply tying them together in an upright position so that the snowdrifts cannot bend and break the canes.

"I was Crippled, could hardly walk and had to Crawl down stairs at times on my hands and knees. My doctor told me I had an acute attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I was in the hospital for weeks, but was scarcely able to walk when I left it. I read about

Dr. Miles' Nervine

Few medicines are of any benefit for rheumatism, but Mr. Sanders tells plainly what Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine did for it. One ounce of salicylate of soda added to one bottle of Nervine makes an excellent remedy for rheumatism, which is now known to be a nervous disease and therefore subject to the influence of a medicine that acts through the nerves, as does
